How it Works:

You're eligible to participate in Next Mile if you:

- Work for a DSP that is providing Next Mile Education Benefits
- Meet the employment tenure set by your DSP (30, 90, or 120 days)
- Work at least 3 days a week

Getting started with Next Mile is easy!

1. Visit NextMile.InStride.com and select Get Started to confirm your eligibility.
2. Select the learning option you're interested in within the academic network.
3. Click request information or enroll now for the course, certificate or degree program you've chosen.
 - If you request information for a degree program, you'll be contacted by the school and they can help you through the application process.
4. After you enroll, you'll get access to the online platform to begin your course.
5. Your tuition will automatically be billed to your DSP, up to $5,250 per calendar year!
